

RALLY TO REPEL SLY 'JOKERS' HID IN DRUG BILL

Leaders of Anti-Narcotic Crusade Will Give Aid to Senator Boylan.

BIG FIGHT ON AT ALBANY THIS WEEK

Proposed Whitney Measure Would End Usefulness of Present Law, It Is Said.

Persons most interested in the suppression of the sale of narcotic drugs will turn their attention to Albany this week to combat in the Legislature an assault on the Boylan law, which was passed as a result of The Tribune's anti-cocaine crusade.

E. K. Coulter, of Coulter & Bond, 2 Rector Street, counsel for Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt in her campaign against the illicit sale of drugs, and Floyd Wilcox, Assistant District Attorney, sounded the warning yesterday after a conference with Assemblyman Maurice Bloch, of this city, who has introduced amendments approved by the sponsors of the Boylan law.

"Apparently there is a lot of jockeying being done at Albany to weaken the Boylan law," declared Mr. Coulter. "There will be a strong demand for a hearing in Albany on Wednesday on the Whitney bill, which embodies changes desired by certain interests in the law. This bill has passed the Senate, and there is every indication that it has strong support in the Assembly.

Want to Shift Problem.

"We shall ask members of the committee of ten which was appointed to prepare amendments to the Boylan law to write to Albany to-morrow requesting a hearing. Then we will go up there and find out just what this attack on a practical, working statute means."

On behalf of the defenders of the Boylan law Mr. Coulter issued the following statement last night:

"The committee appointed by a conference of those interested in the suppression of the sale of narcotic drugs prepared amendments to the Boylan bill, which were introduced in the Assembly by Senator Boylan. There has been a hearing on the Bloch bill in the Assembly and the committee has reported out. In the Senate Public Health Committee, however, the Boylan bill has remained, and all the efforts of Senator Boylan to get it on the floor have been in vain.

To Check Drug Sales.

"These measures, besides correcting certain minor typographical errors in the bill as passed last year, are also designed to strengthen the bill by making it impossible for druggists to make account for all of the narcotic drugs which come into their possession. In the Boylan bill, as passed last year, it was found that certain unscrupulous druggists kept morphine and its derivatives and sold quantities of them, failing to keep a record of all such sales. When a levy was made the officers were met with the explanation that the amount bought by the druggist was not accounted for by prescription and by the supply on hand was used in the preparation of cough medicines which were contained in bottles on the shelves. The amendment, as proposed by the committee, is an attempt to prevent druggists from using this subterfuge.

"The amendment also provides that the courts may at any time during the trial send a person charged with a crime to an institution to be cured, if it becomes evident that the person is an addict of the drug habit.

"It also provides that magistrates and judges of courts may commit a person addicted to the habit to a penal or charitable institution maintained for the treatment of disease or insanity. The state has provided for the treatment of such persons, but without the amendment as proposed in the Bloch-Boylan bill it will not be possible to send addicts to Warwick.

"The penalty clause is also increased by making it a felony to sell or offer for sale any narcotic drug to any child under the age of sixteen.

"Last Wednesday session was passed the Senate a bill known as the Whitney bill, a plain and palpable attempt to break down the force of the Boylan law. It provides that the prescriptions of physicians shall not come within the provisions of the Boylan act. Experience in New York City has shown that a large supply of the drugs to the underworld and to those addicted to the habit has been through doctors to prescribe such drugs without complying with the law would be a step backward."

The Whitney bill, after being passed by the Senate, was sent to the Assembly, read once and referred to the Public Health Committee.

Assistant District Attorney Wilcox said that the principal argument of the Whitney forces against the Boylan amendments was that the new Harrison federal law covers all necessary regulations of the sale of drugs.

Since the Boylan law went into effect, March 1, 1914, there have been 84 convictions for violation of the drug regulations, and in all 3,000 arrests have been made. Many of the cases were disposed of by sending the patient to some hospital for treatment.

Assemblyman Bloch said last night that his bill would probably be up on the floor to-day and the chances are that it would be recommitted to the committee.

LOOK TO AMERICA TO PROTECT CHINA

Washington Believes Allies Want U. S. to Lead in Negotiations with Japan.

(From The Tribune Bureau.)

Washington, March 21. The belief is growing in Washington, particularly in view of the denial made public yesterday by the British Embassy that Great Britain was not acting in concert with Russia, that both those powers wish the United States to bear the burden of diplomatic negotiations looking to the protection of China from undue incursions on her rights by Japan. It is for this reason, it is said, that Baron Gihon, the Japanese Ambassador, has been counselling a policy of secrecy as to all the negotiations on Secretary Bryan.

In the opinion of Secretary Bryan, the only time at which the State Department is justified in stating the attitude of the United States on any question of international policy is after negotiations have been completed and the United States committed to a policy. He resents newspaper discussion of and speculation as to the actions of the government in international affairs.

It has been known for months that Mr. Bryan's views are in discord with those of at least two other members of the Cabinet.

TINY DOG, BIG POLICEMAN

Spring Fever Diagnosis for Poodle That Bit Patrolman.

Mrs. George Gibbs's tiny poodle ran away from a good home at 127 West Sixty-seventh Street last night and attacked a policeman. After casting an appraising eye over Patrolman Vincent Keller, of the West Sixty-eighth Street station, the poodle fearfully fastened its teeth in the little finger of Keller's left hand. Keller extracted the poodle and took it to the station house.

Mr. Gibbs was already there, hearing that the reserves he sent out were dashed when informed it would have to remain a prisoner until examined for rabies. She declared indignantly that nothing more serious than spring fever was the cause of the outbreak. Keller was sent home to have his wound cauterized.

You may believe that when I say she was the first white person to behold the Nonnezohe, the Rainbow Bridge, one of the most magnificent scenic wonders of the world. This bridge is regarded as sacred by the Indians, and there are only four Navajos who know the secret pathway that leads to it. Mrs. Wetherill's trip made it possible to locate one of the most marvelous of nature's architectural creations."

(From The Tribune Bureau.)

Washington, March 21.—Secretary of War Garrison was delighted to-day to receive a telegram from Brigadier General Scott, Chief of Staff, announcing the complete success of his efforts to induce Hatch, the renegade Plute Indian, to surrender. The announcement of the success of his mission, couched in the terse vernacular of the regular army, was as follows: "Successful. Have four Plutes desired by Marshal Nebecker, and am, at their desire, personally conducting them to Salt Lake to turn them over to Marshal Nebecker. Am leaving everything peaceable behind us in Southern Utah. Should reach Thompson Tuesday and Salt Lake Wednesday."

OHIO GOT PAPER FROM N.Y. A DAY AHEAD OF JERSEY

To Youngstown in 4 Days, to Montclair in 5, Merchants' Ass'n Says.

A LONG, LONG WAY TO STATEN ISLAND

L. I. City Also in Middle West Mail Zone—Business Men Complain of Slow Service.

It took five days for mail to travel from New York to Montclair, according to one of the many and varied complaints which have reached the Merchants' Association in its test of the efficiency of mail deliveries in and from New York. The March 13 issue of "Greater New York" was made the basis of one test, and subscribers were asked to fill out blanks to indicate the time of delivery.

Mailed in the General Postoffice at 11 o'clock a. m. Saturday, it was accepted as a fact that the papers should be delivered at addresses in New York City and immediate vicinity on the first delivery Monday. Subscribers within twenty-four hours by rail from this city should have received their copies before noon Monday.

It developed that although the great majority were received according to schedule there were the following notable exceptions:

MONDAY, MARCH 15.

10 a. m., 36 Washington Place; 10:05 a. m., 564 Broadway; 10:15 a. m., 339 West Eighth Street; 10:20 a. m., 170 Central Park West; 10:30 a. m., 461 Fourth Avenue; 10:30 a. m., 93 Prince Street; 10:30 a. m., 588 Broadway; 10:30 a. m., 312 East Twenty-third Street; 10:40 a. m., 57 Prince Street; 11 a. m., Pennsylvania Station; 12:45 a. m., Grand Street and Newtown Creek, Brooklyn; 1 p. m., 1246 Grand Street, Brooklyn; 1 p. m., 1105 Metropolitan Avenue, Brooklyn; 2:30 p. m., 308 Third Avenue, Brooklyn; 3 p. m., 104 Jay Street, Brooklyn; 3 p. m., 116 Inlay Street, Brooklyn.

TUESDAY, MARCH 16.

8 a. m., 416 Lafayette Street; 8 a. m., 106 Lafayette Street; 8:30 a. m., 66 Leonard Street; 9 a. m., 111 Broadway; 11 a. m., Riverdale.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 17.

9 a. m., 22 Thames Street; 9 a. m., Kingston, N. Y.; 9:15 a. m., New Brighton, Staten Island; 11 a. m., Long Island City; 11 a. m., Garden City; 11:30 a. m., Long Island City; 11:30 a. m., Long Island City; 2 p. m., Philadelphia; 3:30 p. m., Youngstown, Ohio.

THURSDAY, MARCH 18.

8:30 a. m., Montclair, N. J.

Staten Island and Long Island City are thus placed in the same zone as Youngstown, Ohio, and Montclair, N. J., in an unenviable class by itself. Staten Island has complained bitterly before of its treatment at the hands of the postal authorities, and a thorough investigation has been promised by Washington. The Civic League urges as one reform a consolidation of the twenty-two postoffices on the island. Miscellaneous reports obtained by the Merchants' Association show distinct cause for dissatisfaction. Boston, Philadelphia and Chicago contribute the local complaints. The following are regarded as typical:

CROWD MISSES HOLD-UP

Three Armed Men Rob Cigar Store as Throng Passes.

At the point of revolver, three men took $222 from a United Cigar Stores shop at 111 Canal Street last night. The store fronts on the Manhattan Bridge Plaza, which was crowded at the time.

Joseph McCarthy, the clerk, was covered by the revolvers of two of the robbers, while the third helped himself to cash and checks. At the door the police waited. In Hooper Street, two blocks away, Patrolman Maser overtook a man who was running. He said he was Bennie Frina, of 62 Chrystie Street. McCarthy identified him as one of the hold-up men and he was locked up.

Even the Fastest Mail Late.

A manufacturing house writes as follows:

"Referring to your circular regarding possible improvement in mail service, we include an envelope which contained an order from our Chicago salesman, postmarked Chicago, 12 m., March 15, and delivered to our office by letter carrier at 12:35 noon, March 16. In a sense, this is indeed quick service. Certainly the railroad did its part of it all right."

"The point we wish to make is that if the '20th Century Limited' arrived on time this morning (at 9:40 a. m.) on this letter should have reached us earlier in the day. We know that business houses in the General Postoffice district received this mail before 10 a. m., and we believe that this small but important mail should be assorted at the Grand Central Terminal Postoffice promptly upon arrival and distributed by tubes to the various branch postoffices in the uptown as well as downtown business districts.

SOFAS, ELSE OLD MAIDS

Y. W. C. A. Girls Say They Need More of Cupid's Seats.

(By Telegraph to The Tribune.)

Philadelphia, March 21.—If the only place you've got to entertain the young man of your choice is one of the three parlors that are open wide to 240 girls all in the same plight, what chance has the anxious youth to put the vital question?

If the same three parlors contain no more than seven sofas—as necessary to the proposal almost as the young man himself—according to the fourth dimension mathematics, are those seven to accommodate 480 bent on Cupid's business? Such are the questions that are now perplexing members of the local Y. W. C. A.

In the Y. W. C. A. 240 marriageable young women are housed. By waiting their turn each of them could have a chance at a sofa every thirty-fourth night. According to the girls, this is not enough. "If we're not to be old maids we must have more sofas and more space," they say.

Mrs. Joseph A. Hudson, president of the association, adds that the question is a problem on rainy nights, but she looks to the summer and the benches in Fairmount Park temporarily to solve the problem.
